
Fun with Toy Cameras

Instructor Name: Angela

Instructor Email: acrews@coloradocollege.edu, angela@angelacrewsphotography.com

All items for B&W film and print processing can be found locally at Cameraworks on Academy Blvd., as well as online photo stores such as Freestyle Photo, B&H Photo, and Adorama. Cameraworks does offer a student discount on photographic supplies if you let them know you are in a class at Bemis.

To find a fantastic plastic toy camera, check out Freestyle Photo online. They carry a full range of Holga cameras and some Diana cameras as well. All fun for the Plastic Toy camera enthusiast! You can generally find Holga cameras on Amazon as well.

Supplies

Plastic Camera or Vintage/Antique camera*	$40 and up depending on what you choose
B&W Film – Ilford HP5, Ilford FP4, Delta 100 or Delta 400	$10/roll and up depending on format
B&W Paper – Ilford MG 8x10 RC Paper	$40 est. for 25 sheet pack
Ilford Anti-static cloth	$16
Old hand towel from home	$0, if brought from home
Apron or smock	$0, if brought from home
3-ring notebook and note taking supplies	$5 - $7
Latex disposable gloves (NO POWDER) if you have sensitive skin	$10
Canned air (1 can is usually fine)	$8

Total estimated cost $150 minimum determined based on the camera you select and how much film you want to use.

* Camera types vary. Plastic toy cameras can be found for $40 and up (Holga/Diana/etc.)
Vintage/antique camera also vary in prices – look for 35mm or 120 (medium) formats and email me with any questions prior to buying if you are not sure what to purchase.

COLORADO SPRINGS

Fine Arts Center

at COLORADO COLLEGE

* You will want at least 2-4 rolls of film depending on the format of the camera you have (35mm or medium format/120mm)

Please email the instructor with any questions regarding supplies.

In case you are unable to attend class, consider purchasing supplies that are returnable.